Metacognition and Self-Regulated Learning

Metacognition and self-regulation is one of the most accessed strands of the EEF Teaching and Learning Toolkit with on average an impact of 7 months' additional progress. To capitalise on the potential of developing these independent learning skills, teachers and leaders need to understand what they are and how to develop them across the age ranges.

Delegates will:

- Develop an understanding of metacognition & self-regulation
- Be provided with the tools and processes for self-review
- Be provided with guidance on effective implementation
- Be offered practical resources and tools to use in school
- Be given the skills and knowledge to be able to offer in-school training that is evidence based

Trainers

Freya Morrissey: Evidence Lead in Education for Kingsbridge Research School & Head of English at Teign School

Helen Thorneycroft: Evidence Lead in Education for Kingsbridge Research School & Head of History at Kingsbridge Community College

Jon Eaton: Director of Kingsbridge Research School & Research Lead, Education South West

SWIFT & WalkThrus Programme Professional Community

After the success of our WalkThrus Conference and Autumn interactive clinic with Tom Sherrington, we are hosting the next session in January. This session will feature Fran Hargrove, Deputy Chief Executive and Lead Improvement Partner for Haringey Educational Partnership. She will share how the WalkThrus programme has transformed the school culture across her partnership, with 100 schools ranging from nursery, primary, secondary, special and alternative provision and FE college.
